MANY PLEDGES

Of Stock In Company to Buy Courtland Have Been Made

MEETING FOR TONIGHT

There was a meeting in the law office of Ake and Day last night concerning the Courtland hotel. Present at the meeting were Ake and Day, attorneys for J. Alfred Klein, and a number of representative business men of this city. The purpose of the meeting was the endeavor to dispose of the Klein interests to a company and make the hotel the property of Canton people and Canton capital. The situation was gone over by those present at the meeting but no definite action was taken in the matter.

There will be another meeting in the banquet room of the Courtland this evening at which more local capital will be represented and it will be the aim of the meeting to dispose of the stock of the new company that was incorporated at Columbus yesterday. There will be five hundred shares for sale at $100 each and it is the opinion of Mr. Day that there will be no trouble in the disposition of the shares. He stated that already a number of shares have been pledged and that a number of business men of the city have signified their intentions to enter the company.

"The proposition is this," said Mr. Day. "We want to form a company composed of Canton men and capital and buy the Klein interests in the hotel. Then the new company will place some one in management and the hotel will be operated as in the past. We were negotiating with Mr. Christy of the N. O. T. company, but as no agreement could be reached those negotiations are all off. It would be a shame to close the hotel and convert it into anything but a hotel and would be the worst thing that could happen to Canton. I do not anticipate any trouble in selling the stock in the new company and I think that it will all be disposed of this evening at the meeting."

Asked as to whether Mr. Klein, the present proprietor of the place, would be retained as manager, Mr. Day said: "That will be up to the new company and whoever they see fit to place there as manager will get the place."

At the meeting was a proposed candidate for the position as manager of the hotel under the new management. He is a former Canton man and was at one time identified with a local hotel, but at present is manager of a big hotel in the east. If Mr. Klein is not retained by the new company, the new manager will probably be the gentleman who was at the meeting last night.

IN JUSTICE COURT

Frank D. Hamlin, charged by Alliance parties with the larceny of two promissory notes of $50 each was arraigned before Justice Bothwell and entered a plea of not guilty. His case was set for January 16 and the defendant was released on a bond of $2500.

Frank Burress, who was arrested on a serious charge preferred by Nellie Cameron, of North Industry, was released under $500 bond. The case will be heard Saturday.

Mrs. Almitta DeHess, 208 South Walnut street, yesterday swore out an affidavit in Justice Barrick's court charging Frank Lab with the larceny of a gold watch and chain valued at $20. Mrs. DeHess said that Lab had borrowed the watch at one time but that he had returned it. A few days ago he again borrowed the timepiece but this time had not returned it and she was afraid that he had pawned it or disposed of it in some manner. Before borrowing the watch she says Lab boarded at her home.

Jesse Parks, an employee of the Duerber plant, charged McClelland Leggett with obtaining money under false pretenses. The affidavit was sworn out in Justice Barrick's court. Parks says Leggett claimed that he had about $30 due him from the Consolidated Coal and Mining company, and on the strength of this secured $11 from him. Later he learned that he was not a creditor of the company, hence the filing of the affidavit.

W. E. Fisher in Justice Barrick's court has charged one H. B. Johnson with obtaining money under false pretenses, or rather by means of a worthless check drawn on a Cleveland bank.

It is alleged that Johnson represented that he had a checking deposit in the Columbiana Loan and Savings in Cleveland and drew a check for $7 which Fisher cashed. It was returned marked "no funds" and Johnson has disappeared.

FATAL GAS FUMES

William Harris, of Windsor, Canada, Found Dead in Room of Auditorium Saloon.

William Harris, of Windsor, Canada, brother of David Harris, proprietor of the Auditorium saloon at the corner of Court and Third streets, was found dead on the second floor of the building by Bartender John Smith, Wednesday morning about 6 o'clock. Smith, who supposed that Harris was in a dying condition, summoned the aid of Dr. A. L. Rizer, who quickly responded. After a careful examination of Harris, it was announced that he had been dead for some time, death being caused by escaping fumes from a small gas stove which was in the room.

Harris, who came from Akron Tuesday night, where he was employed by a Detroit firm in the finishing work on the marble in the Summit county court house, sat down stairs until Bartender John Reel closed up for the night, when he went upstairs to bed. It is stated by Dr. Rizer that it was his opinion that Harris had turned the stove too high and that fumes escaped, thus causing his death. His remains were taken to the Miller-Blanchard undertaking rooms, and will probably be taken to Windsor for burial. The deceased was 42 years of age and unmarried.

Cleveland—Mrs. Angela M. Harris sued Concon Wednesday for $30,000 damages for street car accident October 12, 1906.
